The U.S. Bureau of Land Management (BLM) Burns District is seeking hosts for the summer season at several recreation sites across Harney County. Volunteers are needed at Chickahominy Reservoir Campground near Riley, Page Springs Campground near Frenchglen, Fish Lake Campground at Fish Lake, and South Steens Campground near the Little Blitzen River. Interested volunteers should contact the Burns District Office at (541) 573-4400 to inquire about or apply for a position.

To qualify for a host assignment, volunteers must enjoy the outdoors and living in a secluded camping environment, be able to communicate with and assist recreational visitors, be in good health, and enjoy talking with travelers about recreation opportunities in the area. Hosts must provide a trailer, camper or motor home, must be willing to stay at the site for a minimum of 1-month, and are expected to work weekends and holidays with the option of two mid-week days off. The BLM will provide a free host site, water, electricity, and garbage collection where available, and a daily subsistence per individual or as a couple as funding allows. Amenities, duties and responsibilities vary at each recreation site.
